HOME RULA'S REAL CHOICE

JOHN MAHUKA AS GOV. DOLE'S SUCCESSOR.

Brief and Succinct Statement of His Platform—$50,000,000 of Revenue From 10,000,000 of Imported Asiatics.

EDITOR STAR: I ask your kindness to allow me space in your estimable paper, that I may reply to an insinuation made in this morning's Advertiser, August 23, against me.

The article I am referring to is that which represented me as a "Kahuna." I am not a "Kahuna," neither have I any claim to such dignity, although, the word "Kahuna" in my mother tongue means a "doctor" or priest.

If I was a "Kahuna" I would have cleared my way of all rubbish impeding the progress of my efforts. No contentions and animosities would have happened last night, as are represented as happening.

And in regard to a nominee for Governor, there was no name presented. The names which were cunningly and patiently written and published in the Advertiser, as a feeler, I suppose, there is nothing in such stuff.

If you are very anxious to know who the Home Rulers' candidate for Governor is, let me tell you, that my friends are, "body and soul," in favor of putting my name as candidate for Governor of Hawaii.

The policies I have already outlined for the good of the country (Hawaii) are (1) to abolish all laws forbidding and restricting the Chinese immigration; (2) to import 10,000,000 of Asiatics into Hawaii.

Now, if we could get 10,000,000 of these people from Asia, an income of $50,000,000 would enrich our Treasury. And in one year all of our industries—sugar, rice or whatever it may be—would be prospered from Hawaii to Kauai.

I remain, your obedient servant,

JOHN M. MAHUKA.

KAULIA WAS PAU.

Anti-Dole Orator Not On Hand Last Night.

The meeting of the Home Rule members last night was marked by some rather odd occurrences. In the first place J. K. Kaulia was conspicuous by his absence. He has always been regarded as the intense anti-Dole partisan and he was, in fact, the person who caused the meeting to be called at which the successor to Governor Dole was to be appointed. When the meeting was called to order Kaulia was not present. He had said in the afternoon that he was "too tired" to attend. He was not the only man who had that "tired" feeling before the meeting was over.

After John Mahuka, who seems rapidly coming to the front as a leader of his race, had offered the famous resolution setting aside three days for prayer, the crowd did not seem to take kindly to the suggestion. Some of those present laughed. This incensed Mr. Mahuka and he said all right he would wait and let any others come forward with better resolutions if they had them. The chairman also asked for any other resolutions.

None were forthcoming so Mr. Mahuka, remembering the indifferent reception of his resolution, arose and said that he had a resolution to offer, whereupon he presented the set of resolutions which Beckley had taken to President McKinley. By the time these had been read every one in the place was half asleep or tired to death and Mahuka had the satisfaction of teaching them a lesson not to trifle with him. Mr. Mahuka is an announced candidate to succeed Governor Dole.

A HERO BUT OF LUCK

FOREMAN SILVA OF STOCKYARDS LOSES ALL.

Forgets His Family While Rescuing Employers' Property—Lost Both His Home and Position.

Joseph Silva, until the fire, employed as night foreman of the Honolulu Stock Yards Company, was treated badly by Fortune on the night of the conflagration. He has lost his all. His household effects, his clothes with those of his wife and children and his larder and penance were all burned up. In addition he has lost his job.

Silva was instrumental in saving the lives of a good many of the horses when the fire broke out and indeed, probably rescued Michael Santos and his family with some Chinamen who were living in cottages adjoining the stables, from a horrible death.

Silva's own wife and three little children had a narrow escape; the cottage that they lived in and all their effects going up in the general holocaust.

On Silva's attention being drawn to the glowing hay left by a helper on the night of the fire, his prompt action saved what horses and carriages were rescued from the main buildings. After telephoning twice to central that the fire department was needed at once, Silva succeeded in getting out about thirty of the horses before the rapidly increasing flames warned him of the danger of his own family.

Hastily running to the cottage he discovered the mauka end already on fire, being just in time to get his family away in safety clothed only in their night gear.

In two adjoining cottages dwelled Michael Santos and some Orientals who were still asleep when the flames were reaching the framework of their houses. With shouts and stones hurled through the windows Silva managed to awaken them in time.

Escorting his family to a place of safety, Silva then returned to the now hopeless task of endeavoring to save the rigs and horses in the burning stable.

Manager Rice corroborates the accounts of Silva's assistance in saving the stock, as have others who were present at the fire. Silva's desire to rescue the horses rendered the thoughts of the peril of his own folks subservient to the interests of his employers.

As affairs now stand however Silva is out of a job, has lost all his clothing, with that of his wife and three children including all their personal effects, and may be regarded as being in decidedly straitened circumstances.

Magoon and Thompson and Hatch and Silliman have been added to the lawyers engaged in the Kamalo case; their attorneys are trying hard to get before the Supreme Court. The case now has the services of a large number of well known lawyers, George A. Davis and Magoon appear for the original plaintiffs, to carry on the case which was begun by Davis, the late Paul Neumann and the late W. A. Henshall. Hatch and Silliman represent the Neumann and Henshall estates. On the other side are Kinney, Ballou and McClanahan, Robertson and Wilder, and F. W. Hankey.

In the Supreme Court this morning Magoon inquired if the case would be heard this term. Chief Justice Frear who took the bench alone to adjourn court until Monday, announced that the court would adjourn the term on Monday, according to present intentions. He did not think the Kamalo case could be heard. Magoon stated that there were very large interests involved, and that delay was inevitable. The court stated that the matter might be taken up.

A complete transcript of the evidence, brief and decisions in the case has been published in book pamphlet form for presentation to the Supreme Court. It is a book of 170 pages.

IT SAVED HIS BABY. "My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhoea, we were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. J. H. Doak, of Williams, Ore. "I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Hawaiian Islands.

The Customs Tariff Act of 1897 with alphabetical schedule, revised up to July 1st, 1900—an indispensable book for all importers, just received and for sale by the Golden Rule Bazaar.

The Planters' Monthly for August reprints from the Louisiana Planter an interesting and doubtless valuable article by J. T. Crawley entitled "Fertilizing of Cane Soils in the Hawaiian Islands."

The article treats of the methods and excellent results arising from the use of fertilizers on the different islands of the group, giving an analysis of the different soils and a history of the introduction of fertilizers to Hawaii. The recent possession by the United States of numerous tropical islands and the general belief that the methods of fertilization as practiced in Hawaii are as good as in any sugar country and probably better than in any tropical country have been quoted by Mr. Crawley as a pertinent reason for his article.

WILL LAST THREE WEEKS. L. B. Kerr & Co. have closed their Hilo branch and the big stock of goods has been brought to Honolulu and will be sold at clearing prices. The list includes goods in all lines. The sale will continue for three weeks.

KUKUIHALE CANE FIRE

TWO FIELDS WERE DESTROYED ON WEDNESDAY.

Thought to Have Been Started by Japanese Who Threw Sparks Into the Dry Cane.

According to advices brought yesterday by the steamer Kauai a very destructive cane fire was started on the plantation of the Pacific Sugar Mill Company at Kukuihaele.

The fire started about 2:30 p. m. Wednesday. A Japanese who lives in a house in a cane field is thought to have thrown some ashes out among the cane. The continued drought which has prevailed for the last three months along the Hamakua coast had caused the cane to be almost as dry as tinder. The result was that a little breeze soon fanned the embers into flame and the entire field was soon ablaze. The fire spread to an adjoining field.

All of the available men on the plantation were put to work fighting the flames with the result that the fire was kept down to the two fields. The loss will be considerable. At the time that the steamer left it was not known how many acres of cane had been destroyed.

WANT ARTESIAN WELLS

PRESIDENT SLOGGETT TALKS OF MOLOKAI.

Taro Culture at the Settlement is Developing, But is Handicapped by Lack of Water for Irrigation.

Dr. Henry C. Sloggett, president of the Board of Health expresses himself as entirely satisfied with the results of his last visit to Molokai. He is in company with Dr. Pratt the executive officer of the Board.

"The trip," said Dr. Sloggett this morning, "was taken as a preliminary to that of the regular annual trip with a view of conserving time and energy when that visit takes place. It was my idea that Dr. Pratt and myself, by running up beforehand, could get such an insight into needed reforms that the Board on the regular trip could split into committees and visit the different places at the same time, thus accomplishing a great deal more work than previously."

"At the meeting of the board next week, the question of deciding on the date for the regular trip of the board will probably be brought up with the report of Dr. Pratt and myself. The tenders for the carrying of freight and passengers are being arranged and something settled about the matter of transportation."

"One great and important need," continued Dr. Sloggett, "is the necessity for an artesian well. Plenty of water could be secured and the question of developing artesian wells has been put before the board. It is my opinion that the well should be secured for the settlement."

"Superintendent Reynolds has been working hard in this direction with the means he has at hand and really deserves a great deal of kudos for what he has done. Fifteen acres of taro are already under cultivation and a great deal more land is broken up and only waiting sufficient water supply to be productive. Wells have been dug but the lepers to a depth of thirty feet but of course they cannot tackle the boring of a deep well. It is astonishing to see how well and cheerfully they work with their nailed and crippled hands. They are paid a small wage for such labor as they do and seem invariably not only willing but glad to have something to do."

"The Board built a home, a kind of community house, for those who were ill or feeble; that they were unable to take care of themselves in the separate houses. Now they have a common mess, the nurses of course, are right with them, and the mutual companionship seems to make the conditions of life much more cheerful for them."

"I heard no complaints, beyond the regular routine of cranks who imagine it is about time their relatives have sent them a box or letter and suspect the board of having kept it back for nefarious purposes. The outlook at the settlement at present is very light if we could get an artesian well."

"A steamer, doctor?" "Eh! What's that? Oh yes, and a steamer of our own, of course."

Methods Used in These Islands Equal to Any.

WAS A GOOD COLLECTOR

BUT IS ALLEGED TO HAVE NOT PRODUCED.

Kalaiki Charged With Embezzling $41.25 of Church Funds—Was in the Asylum for a Year.

When thieves fall out honest men come by their dues but when church people fall out the case either gets into the newspapers or the courts. In the present instance it has gotten into both. Lono Kalaiki was arraigned before Judge Wilcox this morning to answer a charge of embezzling $41.25, alleged to be the property of the Hoomana Naauao Church. The defendant had no attorney. He pleaded not guilty and waived examination and was committed to the circuit court for trial.

The case presented some varied features. A couple of years ago subscription lists were sent out on behalf of the Hoomana Naauao Church. Kalaiki was given one of the lists. He proved himself to have a talent for soliciting church subscriptions for he raised $102. For some reason, according to the statements of the trustees, he failed to turn over all of the money. The lists were called in and although the trustees regarded Kalaiki with much satisfaction when they anticipated the big roll that was to be handed in by him. He produced only $60.75. This fell so far short of the expectations that it acted like a lump of ice down the spinal column of the meeting. Another meeting was called and Kalaiki was asked for an explanation. He admitted, it is said, that he had used the money but said he would return it. He was also alleged to have signed a note for the balance, amounting to $60.75, payable in six months.

In the meanwhile Kalaiki went pupuli and was committed to the insane asylum where he languished for about a year. This year he was released and with the keen financial acumen which had marked his former conduct he resumed the collection of subscriptions on behalf of the Hoomana Naauao Church, a branch of the other institution. He is alleged to have secured $45 more.

S. N. Nakua the treasurer, swore to the complaint against Kalaiki yesterday. Judge Wilcox expressed the opinion in court today that the defendant was probably a more fit subject for an insanity commission than the court hall was fixed at $200.

OUTBREAK DAILY EXPECTED

SMOKE FROM KILAUEA TRAVELS 35 MILES.

Reached Hilea Mill on Last Saturday and Sunday—Purser Simerson of Mauna Loa Brings News.

Every late report from Hawaii brings fresh indications that the volcano will soon break out. By the Mauna Loa, which arrived this morning from the Kona and Kau coasts, news of increased activity was received. Purser Simerson says that the smoke from the volcano has travelled as far as Hilea in Kau which is 35 miles distant from Kilauea. This is the farthest point that the smoke has reached since the last outbreak and it is taken by the natives as another indication that another outbreak will soon occur.

Purser Simerson reports that the smoke made its first appearance at Hilea on Saturday and continued to roll over during all of Saturday and Sunday. There had been no signs of a shower of ashes however.

CANNOT WAIT FOR A TRIAL

TWO MORE SHIP'S OFFICERS PLEAD GUILTY.

Prefer to Enter Such Pleas Rather Than Wait Months in Jail for Their Trials.

The two mates of the bark Sea King appeared in Judge Estees' court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of cruelty on the high seas. They got tired of waiting for a trial, and decided that the only way to get out of jail was to plead guilty and serve their sentences, as did the mate of the St. James. Attorney Thayer, who represents the men, dropped into court and put a surprise when he observed his clients pleading guilty.

The men are John Douglas and Charles Albert, first and second mates. The men who accused them is a sailor named Deer, who alleged that Douglas did the beating and Albert helped. According to Albert's story he saw the man struggling and went to stop the fight, but he got 60 days for his pains. Douglas got 30 days. He had an injured foot and it saved him 30 days.

The release of witnesses resulting from the pleas of guilty relieves the overcrowding of Oahu jail, and saves the government much expense. It is expected that some of the others will follow suit. There will be no federal grand jury until November the men have no money for bail. Douglas will be a free man now, 2 months before he would have been heard at all, and Albert will get out about a month before he could have had a trial.

MRS. ROY IMPROVING.

Mrs. Roy whose sudden illness caused her daughter Mrs. Robinson to charter the steamer Noeau last week and make a special trip to Keauhou is reported to be rapidly improving. Mrs. Roy is said to have sustained a paralytic stroke but at the time that the vessel left Hawaii she was so much better that she was able to leave her bed and occupy a chair. It is thought she will recover from her attack.

The police are looking for Jim Kala-wala, Kiahole, Kama Mendoza, Bird Johnson and Hahalamana, all boys who left their homes last Saturday. For some days past Detective David Kapas has been after the crowd.

NEW ROUTE TO TANTALUS

WILL BE BUILT AT PRIVATE EXPENSE.

S. T. Alexander's Offer to Open Up New Lands and a New Driving and Riding Route Mauka.

A new road to the top of Tantalus is proposed. It is planned that it shall start from the Mauna road and reach Tantalus by the slopes of Sugar Leaf. S. T. Alexander of Alexander and Baldwin, who owns a summer lot on the summit of Tantalus has submitted a proposition to the government for the making of a road that will connect with Tantalus starting from the Mauna road and winding around the top of Sugar Leaf.

The work will under the supervision of the Superintendent of Public Works but the whole of the expense will be borne by Mr. Alexander. The proposed road is to be built with a five per cent grade and will practically follow the course of the trail that now runs over the ground.

The Public Works Superintendent J. H. Boyd and his assistant Marston Campbell have both expressed themselves as highly in favor of the thoroughfare, but the whole scheme is at present in embryo as the government has not yet given its official sanction to the offer.

The new road would open up a considerable area of government land and be of further public benefit in addition a new route for driving and riding. Mr. Alexander's plan is not to advance money to the government to build the road but to build it outright and dedicate it to the territory for public use.

THE RISE IN BONDS.

Carter Estate Accounts and Their Showing.

George R. Carter and J. O. Carter this morning filed their answer to the criticisms of Henry Smith, as master, of the accounts in the estate of the late H. A. P. Carter. Smith objected to the charging of certain items to the principal, holding that they should have been charged to the income. In reply the trustees state that they followed a previous order of the court. Incidentally, the reply shows a remarkable jump in some Hawaiian bonds, between '95 and '99. The reply says:

"On July 14, 1899, the trustees, believing that the Federal Government was about to redeem a large amount of the outstanding Bonds of the Territory, and that at such time it would be difficult to secure good investments, deemed it wise to dispose of certain bonds that they held and re-invest the funds under favorable terms while opportunity offered."

"A part of the bonds were bought in 1895 at a discount of $40; the remainder were purchased in 1899 at a premium of $75."

"Thus the bonds stood on the books of the estate at $70 above face value, and in the account referred to the trustees stated they had charged off this $70 to the principal of the estate. To this the master takes exception and recommends that it should be reversed and changed to income account."
